Art Unit: 3754

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
  - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cobble (4,712,215) in view of Amicarelli et al. (5,133,085) and Clack (Des. 398,739,) and further in view of Hemming (5,008,960).

Cobble discloses, in figs. 3 and 5, an infant breast feeding support comprising a breast feeding veil 12 and a rear panel 16 detachably affixed thereto by fastening means.

Amicarelli teaches a strap attached to a backside of a feeding veil.

Clack teaches a strap attached to of a feeding veil having a pair of loops.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a strap to a backside in the feeding veil of Cobble in view of Amicarelli having a pair of loops, as taught by Clack, in order to facilitate of keeping the veil more privacy by a handle through.

The infant breast feeding support of Cobble in view of Amicarelli and Clack does not disclose the rear panel comprising two layers of material and a weight disposed at free end and secured between the layers.

Art Unit: 3754

Hemming teaches, in figs. 1-3 and 5, an infant breast feeding support comprising the rear panel 14 having two layers of material and a weight 20 disposed at free end and secured between the layers.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the infant breast feeding support of Cobble in view of Amicarelli and Clack with the rear panel comprising two layers of material and a weight disposed at free end and secured between the layers, as taught by Hemming, in order to maintain the veil in a proper position while the mother is breast feeding an infant.

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the references above in view of Farrell-Mestas (5,652,958).

Farrell-Mestas teaches an infant breast feeding veil comprising a pouch.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a pouch in the feeding veil, as taught by Farrell-Mestas, in order to carry items such as pacifier and the like.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP
